HAMMOND FACES LIFE PRISON TERM

Aged Burglar Pleads Guilty and Gets Five Years—His Third Conviction.

Forlorn and dejected, and without a friend except his lawyer, Attorney Gilbert K. Pollock, William Hammond, alias E. M. Martin, the three-score-year-old burglar, walked out of the Hastings Court yesterday morning a three-convicted felon. Though there were several cases against him, the old Confederate soldier was tried on but one indictment—that of breaking into and robbing the home of Rev. E. H. Knapp, Mr. Pollock addressed the court, asking that, on account of his age and the suspicion that Hammond is mentally unbalanced, the minimum penalty be imposed.

Judge Witt sentenced the man to five years in the penitentiary. The other cases were held for trial. As this is said to be Hammond's third conviction, the sentence imposed yesterday means that, unless he is pardoned, he must spend the rest of his life behind prison walls. Mr. Pollock stated, however, that he would take steps to have Hammond pardoned, so that he may not die in prison.

Hammond pleaded guilty to the indictment, and then took no notice whatever of what went on before him. He sank on his breast, and he appeared to have forgotten where he was. Once or twice he glanced into the sunshine, but he never opened his lips.

UNITED AGRICULTURAL BOARD ELECTIONS

Bradford Knapp to Succeed His Father.

At a meeting of the United Agricultural Board held yesterday in the office of Governor Mann, Chairman T. O. Sandy, of a special committee appointed to secure county co-operation, reported that thirty-five counties in Virginia had made appropriations for demonstration farming, the total amount being $10,000. Corn clubs have been formed, comprising nearly 2,500 boys, one-acre plots, and by from 1,200 to 1,400 men on similar tracks.

The board elected Bradford Knapp, a son of the late Dr. S. A. Knapp, as a member, to succeed his father, Bradford Knapp having been appointed by the United States Department of Agriculture as general director of farm demonstration work in the South. Resolutions were also adopted on the death of Dr. Knapp, which has occurred since the last meeting of the board.

All members were present, including those of the citizens advisory committee, and several representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture.

WILL FIGHT THEATRE

Committees From Churches Organize and Ask Conference.

Organization of the committees appointed to oppose the erection of a theatre at Eighth and Grace Streets was effected last night. The bodies from St. Peter's Catholic Church and from St. Paul's Episcopal Church met at the McGill Catholic Union. Epiphany, Jr., was elected chairman of the joint committee, and James S. Patterson, of St. Peter's, was made secretary.

It was determined to use persuasion as the first weapon, and to this end a joint committee from the churches, on the one hand, and H. S. Waltherstein, Wells and W. Brenner Neal, the promoters of the theatre, on the other, had a conference. It is understood that the erection of a playhouse on the corner would not be to the best advantage of all concerned.

BECK HALTS WORK ON DEPOT REPAIRS

Atlantic Coast Line Constructing Frame Structure in Brick District.

A sudden halt was called by Building Inspector Beck to operations of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company on its passenger station at Twentieth and Hull Streets yesterday morning, the company being reported to the Police Court on the double charge of erecting a building without a permit and erecting a frame building in what is known as the "brick district," or fire line, of the city. Later yesterday Attorney E. D. Cox, for the railway, had a conference with Mr. Beck, at which it was agreed that when the case is called this morning before Police Justice Maurice the railway will ask for a continuance of ten days to get its plans in order and secure the necessary permits. Mr. Cox was furnished a copy of the city building code for information of his clients.

The company proposes to double the size of the new building to be used as a waiting room, while partitions will be installed providing several small offices. The work is being done by iron carpenters, who seemed not to be too familiar with city building regulations.

VIOLATION REPORTED.

Deputy Inspector Phillips called attention to the fact that what appeared to be frame construction was going up in a brick district, and Mr. Beck went over himself to look into the report. R. B. Brewer, foreman for the railway company, said he was working under orders from the superintendent of maintenance, and that he had no authority to stop the work, even on Mr. Beck's orders. Mr. Beck hunted up Police Captain Alexander Wright, of the Third District, who announced that the first man who struck a blow would be arrested. That settled the matter, and Brewer and his force withdrew to await instructions from Rocky Mount.

Mr. Beck said yesterday that under the code the railway company would be required to remove that part of the frame addition already erected, and to replace it with brick construction before further work could be done.

While he was on the subject, Mr. Beck went with Deputy Inspector Phillips to view several houses of questionable safety. Two were condemned outright and ordered removed—2023 Hull Street, owned by Leroy Anderson, and 1469 Hull Street, now vacant, and for which Ruchmond & Structures, several other buildings were visited, and the owners will be notified to make repairs or remove the buildings as a menace to safety.

TUBERCULOUS CATTLE

Health Department Calls Attention to Examination of Imported Animals.

Attention was called by the State Health Department yesterday to the importance of having all imported animals tested for tuberculosis as soon as possible, to avoid the loss of valuable stock and to prevent imposition by unscrupulous dealers in other States. This action follows an incident of serious loss, which resulted in very a number of valuable cattle who shipped from Northern States. The animals were certified as free from tuberculosis, but upon examination by the State Veterinarian, in connection with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, eleven tubercular animals were found to be infected with the tubercular test and were killed. Upon examination, they were found to be a condition that fully justified the action taken by the State.

The State authorities declare that no such caution cannot be exercised in the purchase of animals from other States, where the nature of the inspection and the character of the dealer are not thoroughly known.

Bulletin on Cowpox. Persons who desire the new bulletin of the State Health Department on cowpox, which contains information as to the nature of the disease and the methods by which it can be avoided, should forward their names without delay, to the bulletin will soon appear and will be much in demand.

In this bulletin the department editors explain in detail the methods by which cowpox can be avoided, and outline the methods by which vaccination can be avoided. As this publication is one which has been much anticipated, it is expected that it will be much in demand.

Qualifies as Administrator. Clinton Johnson qualified yesterday in the Chancery Court as administrator of the estate of George W. Moore, who died in Lunenburg. The estate is valued at $3,700.

ELEVATOR BREAK RESULTS IN PANIC

Fall of Cables Startles Hundreds of Occupants of Mutual Building.

CAR STOPS INSTANTLY

Safety Clutch Worked Perfectly. Tenants Rushed in Wrong Direction.

Just as elevator No. 2 of the Mutual Building was passing the ninth floor yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, there was a sudden and prolonged crash that resounded from one end of the huge building to the other. The cables balancing the weight of the car had parted, and along with it many feet of steel rope, tumbled to the bottom of the shaft. The car, however, being equipped with modern air-operated safety clutches, came to a standstill almost at the moment the cables parted. Neither the operator, Robert Burnett, nor the single passenger that was carrying was hurt, but their nerves suffered severely from the shock.

As luck would have it, the car had not passed the ninth floor landing, and they were able to scramble out without assistance, very pale and rather shaky. Some idea of the jar and the effectiveness of the safety brakes may be obtained from the fact that the electric globe in the top of the car was shattered. The lone passenger thanked his lucky stars when the car came to a stop in general, and ducked into his office, while the operator calmly took charge of another car.

Throughout the building there was a veritable panic caused by curiosity. From the roof to the basement everyone hustled out to see what the trouble was. They did not wait for the other elevators, but took to the steps and went out on the street. The professional and business men joined the small army of clerks and stenographers that raced through the corridors and down the steps. They all expected that a pile of full passengers had come to the bottom, and looked out into the street for the building. It is said that some of them in their eagerness to get to the basement, took the fire escape. At the bottom they were greeted by a pile of twisted cables and pieces of steel, but there were no mangled bodies nor was there any sign of a wrecked car. Some one volunteered information about safety brakes, so they all went up to the ninth story to see for sure how the accident occurred. There was the car, none the worse for the accident except for the broken globe. Then the crowd scattered and went back to work.

It could not be said yesterday afternoon what the amount of damage was, but it probably will amount to several hundred dollars, as the falling weights and cables caught in the rail and tore some of them partially from the walls of the shaft. Elevator No. 1 was disabled for a short time, but during the day, as they were destroyed by the indignant church people.

INSULTED BY DUN, SHE SUES JEWELER

Miss Galloway Says J. S. James Wrote Her, Likening Her to a Negro.

Alleging that she had been greatly humiliated and injured by a dunning letter, for payment of an account the justice of which she does not admit, suit was instituted yesterday in the City Circuit Court for damages in the sum of $2,500 by Miss Annie V. Galloway, of 821 Hull Street, South Richmond, against J. S. James, a jeweler and optician, at Seventh and Main Streets. Miss Galloway is represented by William L. Royall.

In her declaration she sets forth that Mr. James professes to be a jeweler and optician who examines human eyes and adjusts and sells glasses. On January 18, 1911, it is asserted, Mr. James examined the eyes of Miss Galloway and sold her a pair of eyeglasses, with what were represented to be gold rims, and which he claimed were suited to her eyes, for the price of $6. It is now claimed that the glasses were not suited to the plaintiff's eyes, and that the rims were not of gold as represented. In the purchase transaction Miss Galloway agreed to pay $1 in cash and 50 cents on account, the whole amount of $6 had been paid.

The declaration declares that Miss Galloway "got a little heated" in her weekly payments, although she was able to and intended to pay the whole sum of $6, and had actually paid $2, when on March 16 she received the following letter:

"It seems that you do not intend to pay anything more on your account. We might not expect any more from a negro, but it does seem that a white person would have more honor than this and pay their bill without having to send an officer after you. Now if this is not attended to at once we will take other steps."

The signature, "J. S. JAMES," is inscribed, and the letter is insulting, and tends to violence and breach of the peace. Therefore, she asks damages in the sum of $2,500.

PUBLIC FEELING IS WITH HUSBAND

Brown Paid Expenses of Divorce That His Wife Might Marry Pastor.

SOLE TALK IN SOUTHSIDE

Proceedings Were Had in Chancery Court, Decree Being Signed in March.

REV. J. C. MILES.

Nothing was discussed in South Richmond yesterday save the announcement in The Times-Dispatch of the marriage of Rev. J. C. Miles and Miss Rosa Lee Timmons, the divorced wife of Charles W. Brown. While rumors had been in circulation regarding the affair, the news secured by this paper was the first definite information.

Amazement was succeeded by a wave of indignation. Popular sympathy seems to be with Mr. Brown, in spite of the fact that his wife secured a divorce from him on statutory grounds—he says for the purpose of marrying the young man who, until a couple of months ago, was pastor of the Clopton Street Baptist Church.

It was stated that many families whose members belonged to Mr. Miles's church were in possession of photographs of the minister, who was well liked by his flock. The supply of these photographs rapidly diminished during the day, as they were destroyed by the indignant church people.

Divorce Secured. According to Mr. Brown, he became aware of his wife's infatuation with Mr. Miles about last Christmas, and the divorce was secured, against him, was not instituted until February 16 of this year. E. M. Picher was appointed commissioner by the Chancery Court of Richmond, and before him depositions were taken which proved the statutory offense of Mr. Brown. The suit was signed by Judge Grinnell on March 13, granting an absolute divorce and permitting Mrs. Brown to resume her maiden name of Rosa Lee Timmons.

The woman left on March 31 to John Miles, and they were married in Chattanooga on April 1. It is said that husband is now pastor of a church at Marlbury, Ala.

Many stories are told of the fondness of the pastor and Mrs. Brown, a member of his church, for each other's society.

Mr. Brown now expresses satisfaction with the situation in spite of his apparent devotion to his former wife, for he consented to the proceedings which would make her the bride of her pastor.

In some quarters it is stated that Mrs. Brown, for a long time, seemed to evade the pastor's attention.

Paid the Expenses. During the hearing of the divorce proceedings, Mrs. Brown went to the home of her mother, in an enable Street, where her husband visited her, and it is said, kept her supplied with funds. He bore the expense of the divorce proceedings. He and Miss Timmons were married at Pelham, N. C., on June 29, 1909.

Mr. Brown is a carpenter by trade, and is employed by J. P. Peters, but did not report at his place of business yesterday. It is stated by friends of the Browns, that the husband made before the divorce and not only gave her the funds to secure the separation, but furnished the money for her trip to Tennessee.

CONSIDER EXHIBIT

Believed Manufacturers Will Co-Operate in Project.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee for the proposed manufacturers' exhibit will be held in the office of the business manager, Room 312 of the Mutual Building, today at noon. W. K. Richey, who has undertaken to solicit members among manufacturers of the city, will render a report. He will also obtain forty-five who will take space, and enough to insure the exhibit is practically complete. It is probable that the exhibit will be held in the Mutual Building, in some central location will be made.

Ordinance Committee Postponed.

Chairman Thomas J. Matthews announced the postponement until next Tuesday night of the meeting of the Council Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, called for Tuesday. This action was taken to give Board of Aldermen tonight, and body has a long docket, and has already been delayed by the regular meeting night of the Board.

Wilson Sues Railway Company.

Trial of suit of John P. Wilson against the Seaboard Air Line Railway for damages in the sum of $5,000 continued all day yesterday in the Law and Equity Court. It will probably go to a jury to-day. Mr. Wilson claims that the company violated a contract with him after he had begun work in erection of a freight warehouse, and sues for $5,000.

SALE GETS MONEY FOR RIFLE RANGE

Long-Accumulated Fund Allocated to Virginia by War Department.

WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Range Expert Will Confer With General Sale Next Week.

With a little matter of $45,000 in his pockets for the State of Virginia, Adjutant-General W. W. Sale returned yesterday morning from a visit to Washington. This sum, which through the efforts of the Adjutant-General has been placed to the credit of Virginia, will be used in acquiring the new State rifle range and camp site near Virginia Beach for rifle practice.

Following the meeting of the executive committee of the National Guard Association, General Sale held a few personal talks with Secretary of War Dickinson, Chief of Staff Leonard Wood and Chief of Militia Affairs Evans.

This sum during the past five years has accumulated to the credit of the State of Virginia. The State was unable to secure its use for any purpose other than that of equipping a rifle range. Orders were issued preventing the money coming to this State, but these General Sale changed, and the money is now available.

Have Range Expert. General Sale said that it is likely that Captain Harlee, an engineer of the United States Marine Corps, and looked upon as one of the foremost rifle range experts in the country, will be detailed to lay off the range at the beach. Captain Harlee is now at work in Maryland on a rifle range for the use of the government. He will be in Richmond next Tuesday to confer with the Adjutant-General concerning Virginia's range. Possibly work on the rifle range will begin by the end of this month.

The site at Virginia Beach embraces about 350 acres, donated to the State by property owners in that territory. A clear title to the property has been secured, and the Commonwealth, but the deed will not be awaiting the settlement of minor details. The land is valued at $20,000.

The Norfolk and Southern Railroad has agreed to spend $25,000 in erecting a terminal building. The State will thus secure for the use of its volunteers property valued at $50,000 without a penny of its coming from the treasury of Virginia.

It is expected that the range will be in operation by next autumn.

The $45,000 appropriation will not interfere with the usual annual appropriation for the State troops. The sum has accrued to the credit of the State during the past years because Virginia had no rifle range on which to expend the money.

Prepare New Pay Bill. The meeting of the executive committee of the National Guard Association, during the day, the adjutants general of practically all of the States of the Union, Secretary Dickinson, General Wood and General Evans were interested guests of the committee and took active part in the proceedings.

Among other things accomplished, it was decided to draft a new militia pay bill, to be introduced in the House of Representatives during the extra session of Congress. For lack of time the pay bill failed in the last session, and it is intended to pay militiamen for attendance at drills.

Virginia is likely to fare well in the appropriation of funds for military use. Congressman Hay, of Virginia, is chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs.

DO SOAP SHAMPOOS MAKE WOMEN BALD?

"The increasing baldness of women is coming to be a matter of extreme interest everywhere," writes Mae Martyn, famed beauty specialist, in the Seattle Star. "Dermatologists recognize the fact that most women are troubled with short, scanty, dull, brittle, splitting hair and dandruff—sure signs of neglect in caring for the hair. These conditions are often the result of washing the hair with soap. The alkali in most soaps is too strong for the hair, and causes it to become brittle, coarse, streaky, faded and scanty."

"The safest, reliable shampoo is an expensive one, made from a teaspoonful of castor oil, dissolved in a cup of hot water. It not only cleanses thoroughly, but makes the hair soft, glossy and fluffy, and those who use it regularly are never bothered with dandruff, falling hair or other scalp troubles."

DISEASE CAUSES NEGRO BURGGLARS YOUTH'S RELEASE

Confess Crime

Judge Scott Frees Boy to Prevent Contagion in Henrico County Jail.

Because he is a victim of tuberculosis, James Choppin, a youth of Jamaica, L. I., N. Y., was saved from a long term in the Henrico County Jail. Learning of the boy's condition, Judge R. Carter Scott, of the Circuit Court, issued an order releasing him. Choppin had been arrested as a hobo, having been found beating his way South on a freight train at the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

He left home with several companions to "see the world." With the idea of proving his good character he wrote to a tuberculosis clinic in Jamaica for reference. Learning that the boy was in jail the authorities of the clinic notified the county officers, and advised them to remove him from contact with other prisoners.

No provision being made in the county prison for inmates suffering from contagious diseases, and in view of the fact that there was no serious charge against Choppin, Judge Scott, released him, and expressed his sympathy for the youth.

He was turned over to Rev. James Buchanan, superintendent of the Associated Charities, and an effort will be made to have him returned to his home on Long Island.

Second Detachment From Virginia to Leave for Front on Sunday.

A second detachment of Virginia officers, composed of one major and three captains of infantry, will leave here Sunday night for the war maneuvers along the Mexican border. On arrival of the second detachment, those now in Texas will be relieved and return to their homes.

Adjutant-General W. W. Sale had a talk yesterday morning over long distance telephone with General Evans in the War Department, and was informed that formal orders were on the way, and would probably arrive this morning, ordering the second detachment to the front. In this group there will be no artillery men, no medical officers, and no staff representatives, all four of the officers to be assigned to be men actively in command of companies or battalions of infantry.

As the formal orders had not arrived, General Sale did not announce the appointments to this detachment, but said that he had consulted military men, and while the list was not yet completed, it would probably be announced to-day or to-morrow. Officers have heretofore been advised to hold themselves in readiness for immediate orders.

Hill held many positions of importance, but it seems that the Capitol Shoe Supply Company declared the position of president vacant as soon as it was learned that Hill had left the city. He was president of the annual meeting of the stockholders last January, when he was re-elected as president only. He is not now an officer.

NEGRO BURGGLARS CONFESS CRIME

Detective Johnson Serves Warrants on Charges of House-breaking.

Acting Detective C. M. Johnson, of the First District, yesterday morning served warrants on John Floyd, Henry Fields and Troy Harris, all colored, charging them with having broken into the house of Victor Fauntleroy, 1908 S. E. Twenty-first Street, and stealing therefrom a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes, two razors and a hat. The officer has recovered the shoes and clothes, but it is alleged, the hat was thrown into a box car and the razors washed away.

Floyd was arrested on April 5 and the other two at 1 o'clock Monday morning, all being held as suspicious characters. Then Acting Detective Johnson proceeded to procure his evidence, and arrested yesterday by obtaining enough to swear out warrants against the three negroes.

They are believed to be responsible for most of the burglaries which have recently been perpetrated on Church Hill, and the structure is regarded as one of the most important in the city. Facing the warrants, the three negroes confessed to having committed the burglary with which they are charged.
